What You Don't Know Can Hurt You

This month find out the latest information on Cyberlaw from Ms. Josefina B. Taylor, Attorney with Mallory & Tsibouris, Co., LPA, and Ms. Kathy Rausch, E-Business Expert.

Today Americans routinely enter cyberspace, the Internet, to display advertisements, shop, communicate via e-mail, conduct research, work, attend classes, and perform many other tasks and achieve many goals. Yet, the majority, if not all, Internet users, may be dangerously unfamiliar with the law of the Internet, which is referred to as cyberlaw.

Cyberlaw is unsettled and evolving because the Internet is a very new development in legal history. However, it must be remembered that the law of the real world does not disappear on the Internet, it may just become a little different. New cyber space and computer-related laws have been proposed and enacted that include sections dealing with technology.

Meanwhile, the more traditional laws based on the Constitution, English common law, and federal and state governments, also apply. This cyberlaw presentation attempts to provide a summary of the issues to those who work with Internets, Intranets, e-mail, etc. Whether one uses the Internet to sell products or merely provide information about a business, the laws of the real world will certainly apply.

Ms. Taylor has extensive experience in privacy issues involving the Graham-Leach-Bliley Act, business formation, online financial services, information technology services and contracts, Web site legal issues, and general privacy law. Ms. Taylor is a graduate of the Capital University Law School, she has an MBA from Capital University, and is a graduate of Indiana University with degrees in English and Economics.

Ms. Rausch is a founding partner of Interactive Ink, Inc. She has over 17 years experience in E-Business. Her wide range of management experience includes project management, designing, and programming, business and technical planning. Ms. Rausch has worked on a wide range of E-business projects including educational CD-ROMs, work group solutions, web sites for large and small organizations, for profit and not-for-profit organizations, interactive games, and internet marketing.

From the President...

Hello All.

I would like to thank Keith Justus of 3X Corporation for his presentation in April on Integrating a DB2 Database to a Website.

Our next regularly scheduled meeting in May the topic will be "Cyber Law - What You Don't Know Can Hurt You". This will be presented by Kathy Rausch and Josefina B. Taylor. Both of these individuals have a tremendous amount of experience on the topic. I look forward in hearing this very important presentation.

This month is also our election of Officers and Board of Directors of ASU. The following is the current slate of candidates for the May 2003 election:

OFFICERS

President - John Ransom
Vice President - Reggie Hooks
Treasurer - Reneé Strassell
Secretary - Loretta Christensen

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Stu Boulton
Dean Liming
Erick Wilds

As I mentioned last month, I invite more people to get involved with ASU. In fact, I encourage you to get involved. To get involved, all you have to do is email or talk to any member of the ASU Leadership team.

As we think about leadership in ASU, I would like for all of you to be a leader and download the By-Laws of ASU for your review. These By-Laws have not been updated since September 1987. It was a goal of the Leadership team to present to the membership changes to the By-Laws. The proposed changes are now available to be reviewed by the membership. At the June, 2003 meeting, we will vote on the proposed changes to the By-Laws. If you have any questions concerning these proposal before the June meeting, please contact me or any Officer or Board member.

As always, bring a friend. See you at the meeting!

John
