Discover How Real Life Inspires Robot Design!

Have your family join the ASU family for a holiday celebration at COSI Columbus. Admission to COSI's many exhibits is included with your reservation. The feature display at COSI currently showcases Robots + Us. Explore how real life influences robot design! Make simple robots and see complicated ones in this interactive, hands-on exhibit.

Experiment your way to futuristic fun. Robots + Us investigates how biology and engineering are coming together to close the gap between reality and our robot dreams. Robots + Us provides hands-on opportunities to explore how building artificial life can teach us about the real thing including Robot Arena, the Garden of Sensory Delights and the Low Life Lab. Robots + Us will give you a unique chance to separate your science fiction fantasy image of robots with today's technical reality and compare your own capabilities with the best we know how to build.

Robots + Us is a traveling exhibit produced by the Science Museum of Minnesota. The exhibit was made possible with support from the National Science Foundation.

President's Note...

Hello All...

Are you ready for some fun? Well, I can use some fun after a long tiring year of work and stress. I know you can use some stress relief, too.

If you are ready for some fun and you want some stress relief, join ASU for the Holiday Celebration at COSI on December 19, 2004. We want all members to come out to have a great time. In fact, you can bring your entire family to this great gathering.

I would like to thank Kimberley Hall of Metafile for her presentation in November about Capture software. If you were not in attendance for the November meeting to hear the presentation, don't worry, there is a part 2. Part 2 will focus on Kodak Scanners. We will have 3-4 different models on display. If you are a shop like mine, you will want to have your colleagues and even supervisors and managers attend this meeting with you. Part 2 of Metafile's presentation will take place in January at Berwick Party House.

See you at COSI on December 19, 2004....

John
